THE COUNTRY EDITOR.

In almost every instance the one man who is neglected and ignored by the politicians is the country editor. In a majority of cases he cannot get into a convention whose nominees he is expected to support. After the convention and all through the campaign, however, he is sought after. He is expected to write up the candidates of his party and write down those of the opposition. He is called upon to give up space which would cost a business man hundreds of dollars, and then his bill for printing is the last one paid, and if there is not enough money on hand to pay it he is expected to stand the loss and is abused if he objects. He is a hewer of wood and a drawer of water—a pack horse for every cheap state of a politician who poses as the whole thing at the expense of the editor. Then when his party triumphs the country editor can stand on the sidewalk in his last year's clothes and see the procession go by.—Illinois State Register.

AMONG the numerous suggestions, some humorous and some serious, made to the War Department, as to the disposition of Aguinaldo, is the following, from a prominent official: "Have his name changed by law to George Washington Aguinaldo, then set aside 50 square miles of uncultivated government land as a territory, and make G. W. Aguinaldo its governor, on condition that ex-Governor Boutwell, Edward Atkinson, Erving Winslow and other anti-imperialist leaders shall take up quarter sections there. Then leave them alone to work out their ideas of government, and the rest of the American people will find out how the thing ought to be done."

PHILANDER CHASE KNOX, the new Attorney General, is the eighth Pennsylvanian to hold that post in the Cabinet. He is in the prime of life. Next month he will celebrate his 48th birthday. President McKinley and Mr. Knox are friends of long standing. Indeed it was McKinley's influence that caused Knox to prepare himself for the practice of law. The only thing said against him is that he has had rich corporations for clients. This is really a compliment as rich corporations employ only the best lawyers.

It is quite safe to predict that Aguinaldo will not be allowed to come to the United States as long as he is considered a prisoner, and how long he will be considered a prisoner will depend upon how he conducts himself, and upon how those who have been his followers conduct themselves. He and his associates must live up to the oath of allegiance they have taken to the United States before they are entirely freed from surveillance.

CIVIL government has been established in Porto Rico and is operating smoothly. The condition of the island is improved and is now better than ever before. The island has not cost the United States a cent, and will soon be raising its own revenue by internal taxation.

THE equestrian statue of Gen. John A. Logan was unveiled at Washington, D. C., April 9. The statue is one of the most elaborate as well as the most artistic in Washington.

An Exposition Booklet.

Here comes another of the beautiful booklets from the Bureau of Publicity of the Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, N. Y. It consists of 16 pages and a cover in light green. The unique feature of it is the miniature reproduction of the famous poster, "The Spirit of Niagara," which has had a most remarkable demand. The envelope in which the booklet is mailed also bears a reproduction of this artistic work. The booklet is a popular picture book, the first page having an engraving of the magnificent Electric Tower, which is 391 feet high, and which will form the glorious center-piece of the great Exposition. On the same page is a miniature of one of the torch bearers which will adorn the wings of the Electric Tower, and beside it a picture of Niagara Falls. The second page shows a picture of the Electricity Building, and five other small illustrations of the uses of electricity. The third page shows the splendid group of buildings erected by the National Government, and which will contain the Government exhibits, also five miniature illustrations, one of them showing the life-saving station, where exhibitions will be given daily by a picked crew of ten men, during the Exposition. The fourth page is devoted to the wonderful displays of government ordnance; the fifth to the Machinery and Transportation Building and four other illustrations of modern machines and vehicles. The center of the booklet shows a birdseye view of the Exposition, and gives one some idea of the great extent of the enterprise upon which about $10,000,000 is being expended. The grounds contain 350 acres, being half a mile wide, and a mile and a quarter long. Other pages show horticulture, graphic arts, and mines, manufactures and liberal arts, the Music Temple, the Plaza and its beautiful surroundings, the Stadium or athletic field, the agricultural, live stock and ethnology features, and a few of the 30 or 40 ingenious and novel exhibits which promise to make the Midway the most wonderful that has ever been prepared for Exposition visitors.

Lived One Hundred and Eleven Years.

A representative of the LEDGER examined R. L. Mann's cabinet of curiosities this week, in which he found many rare and valuable specimens. Mr. Mann has souvenirs from various parts of the world, including Alaska, the Philippines, Mexico, etc. Among the relics, the LEDGER man found a copy of the "Cronicle Tribune," H. B. Farley editor, dated some years ago, in which is an extremely interesting account of the remarkable career of Christopher Mann, grandfather of R. L. Mann.

We take a few extracts from the account as follows:

"The death of the remarkable old man calls to mind many incidents in the history of a life that had its beginning before the birth of the republic. He was born in Virginia, September 15, 1774. Two years later his father moved to Kentucky, and in 1798, at the age of 24, Christopher moved to Ohio, where he afterward married Miss Bessie Leach. Leaving Ohio, he moved to Indiana, and in 1838 went to Missouri, settling in Jasper county where he resided up to the time of his death, at the age of one hundred and eleven years.

He was twice married, seventeen children resulting from the first marriage and nine from the second. His lineal descendants include fifteen living children, forty-two grand children, eleven great-grand-children, six great-great-grand-children and one great-great-great-grand child.

Like other centenarians "Uncle Chris," as he was called, had a long and interesting anecdote of the early history of the country and the men who made its history what it is. His acquaintance included President Harrison, Daniel Boone, Dick Johnson, Thomas H. Benton and others of historic note.

A circumstance over which Genl. Harrison had no control prejudiced Mr. Mann against the future President, and although he never liked him he voted for him, as he did for every President since John Adams except two, when he voted for the wrong men, one of whom was Cleveland.

It was when he was passing through Indiana that the incident referred to occurred. He stopped one night at a tavern kept by General Harrison. The house was crowded and he was compelled to sleep on the floor, for which accommodation he was charged full rate. "Never since then," he observed, "have I liked Bill Harrison. He was a good fighter though, and he did whip old Tippecanoe, but he was too powerful bad at the battle of Tippecanoe."

Mr. Mann was a constant user of tobacco. He had been habituated to the use of liquor since boyhood, although he claimed that he never had been under its influence. It was his boast that he never had been worsted in a personal encounter, and to judge from his appearance as an old man it was no idle boast.

He was over six feet in height, of a powerful frame, and retained the use of his limbs to the last. His eyesight never became impaired, and he never knew the need of spectacles. It is probable that there is no one in the United States whose length of life exceeds his."

The Sacramento Street Fair

The Sacramento Street Fair Committee up to this time have not had much to say concerning the Midway and its amusements other than to announce there would be a very full list of attractions. This year the buildings on the Midway will be uniform in height and covered with canvass on which will be painted a glowing picture of the many and varied attractions to be seen within. The space from L to N streets on both sides save that occupied by the Administration Building and the Queen's throne and grandstand, will be filled with the wonderful, the funny and the mysterious. "Coon Town's 400" will be one of the more notable aggregations. A very amusing and exaggerated reproduction of high life in Blackland will be presented. The colored artists will appear in a parlor scene and dressed "to the limit." Coon songs, dancing and real tropical cake-walk complete the show.

Those who delight in the mysterious, will find in the "Black Art" booth one of the most clever illusions ever presented in Sacramento. Ladies and gentlemen appear and disappear in the most wonderful manner and objects animate and inanimate do the most unheard of things.

The Yaqui Indians, thirty in number, giving fire dances and other ceremonies peculiar to their tribe, ought to be a great drawing card and well worth seeing.

The miniature railway will be instructive and entertaining. It is composed of an engine, five little cars and 300 feet of track and was manufactured in Sacramento by the boys in the railroad shops. It works to perfection and a nominal fare will be charged for a ride the entire length of the line.

Baby Krause will also be much in evidence. She is a demure and dainty little demoiselle who weighs about 300 pounds. She will perform fairy dances. The Oriental Theatre has billed Little Egypt among other attractions and hour girls, slaves and Turkish beauties complete the bill.

Sapho, she of the divine kisses, will be seen in an attractive booth, and readers of the novel may see the heroine in real life.

A reproduction of the Passion Play presented at Ober Ammergau last summer, will give a very clear idea of the acting of the religious peasants who, to escape the black plague, swore to pre-empt Christ's life and passion and life in allegory once every decade.

A booth of Filipino curios, a vaudeville theatre, a Congress of all Nations, Egyptian fortune tellers, La Lustra, the fire dancer, optical illusions and a magic swing are among the other attractions. All these and other amusements not mentioned will serve to keep "something doing every minute."

Young Mothers.

Croup is the terror of thousands of young mothers, because its outbreak is so agonizing and frequently fatal. Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure acts like magic in cases of croup. It has never been known to fail. The worst cases relieved immediately. Price, 25c, 50c and $1. For sale by A. Goldner, the Druggist.

Fresh cakes can be had at Caminetti's Central Market at all times.

A Society Woman

Undergoes a greater strain than is generally credited to, and every woman is a society woman in her own circle. The debts of society are many and must be paid or there will come social bankruptcy, and it is in the punctual payment of social debts, regardless of health or feelings, that women often lay the foundation for serious illness. The late hours and rich foods, common to society gatherings, soon or late derange the stomach; the liver, perhaps, becomes involved, and the heart flutters or palpitates.

There is no medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition which can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cleans the stomach, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses the clogged liver, nourishes the nerves, and gives face and form the radiant beauty of health.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. It is a "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Pleasant Pellets" than any medicines I have ever tried.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.
